

An Ghaeltacht

An Ghaeltacht

Úsáidtear an téarma 'Ghaeltacht' chun na ceantair sin in Éirinn ina bhfuil, nó ina mbíodh go dtí le gairid, an Ghaeilge mar theanga an phobail. Tá ceantair fhairsinge Ghaeltachta i gcontaetha Dhún na nGall, Mhaigh Eo, na Gaillimhe agus Chiarraí agus pobail níos lú i gcontaetha Phort Láirge, Chorcaí agus na Mí. Is oileáin Ghaeltachta iad sé cinn de na hoileáin a bhfuil cónaí orthu.

Tá na ceantair Ghaeltachta sainithe ag ordú Rialtais agus tá sé aitheanta ag rialtais i ndiaidh a chéile go bhfuil gá le bearta, struchtúir agus maoiniú ar leith chun caomhnú na bpobal seo a chinntiú. Is í an ghníomhaireacht forbartha stáit, Údarás na Gaeltachta, agus An Roinn Gnóthaí Pobail, Tuaithe agus Gaeltachta na léirithe is inaitheanta de pholasaí poiblí i leith na Gaeltachta ó thaobh Riaracháin Poiblí de.

De réir daonáirimh 2006, is é daonra iomlán na gceantar agus na n-oileán Ghaeltachta ná 90,000. Tá thart ar 12,000 den daonra seo ina gcónaí laistigh de bhruachbhailte nua chathair na Gaillimhe. Tá an Ghaeilge, atá á labhairt in Éirinn ón tríú céad RC agus á scríobh ón naoú céad, ar cheann de na teangacha is sine san Eoraip. Bhí bunús Ceilteach leis an teanga, agus tá colceathracha teangeolaíochta aici sa Bhreatain Bheag, in Albain, i gCorn na Breataine, sa Bhriotáin agus ar Oileán Mhanainn.

Cuidíonn an Ghaeilge mar theanga pobail sa Ghaeltacht ní hamháin leis na sainghnéithe luachmhara de thraidisiún agus de chultúr a bheadh imithe murach sin, ach tá sí mar chuid dílis agus inspioráideach den sprioc náisiúnta sochaí dátheangach a bhaint amach.

The Gaeltacht

The term 'Gaeltacht' is used to denote those areas in Ireland where the Irish language is, or was until the recent past, the communal language of the local population through historical transmission. There are extensive Gaeltacht areas in counties Donegal, Mayo, Galway and Kerry and smaller communities in counties Waterford, Cork and Meath. The Meath Gaeltacht, thirty miles from Dublin, is an Irish-speaking colony established by the Government in the 1930's. There are also six populated offshore Gaeltacht islands. The Gaeltacht areas are defined by Government order and every successive government has recognised the need for specific measures, structures and funding to ensure the maintenance of these communities. The regional development agency, Údarás na Gaeltachta, and the Department of Community Rural and Gaeltacht Affairs are the most publicly identifiable expressions of public policy towards the Gaeltacht in terms of Public Administration.

The total population of the Gaeltacht areas and islands after the 2006 Census of Population was 90,000. About 12,000 of this population reside within the expanding suburbs of Galway City. Irish is one of the oldest languages of Europe, spoken on the island from perhaps the third century BC and having a written tradition dating back to the 9th century. The language was Celtic in origin, and has linguistic cousins in Wales, Scotland, Cornwall, Brittany and the Isle of Man. The continuance of Irish as a communal language in the Gaeltacht not only helps to preserve valuable aspects of a distinctive tradition and culture that otherwise would be lost to the Irish nation but also forms an integral and inspirational element of the national objective of achieving a bilingual society in Ireland.

Struchtúir Thacaíochta Achoimre

Is í an Ghaeilge céad teanga oifigiúil an stáit de réir an Bhunreacht. Tá sí mar pháirt riachtanach den chóras oideachais ag leibhéal bunscoile agus meánscoile.

Bunaíodh Oifig an Choimisinéara Teanga, atá lonnaithe sa Ghaeltacht, in 2003 chun maoirseacht a dhéanamh ar chur i bhfeidhm fhorálacha Acht na dTeangacha Oifigiúla.

Is í An Roinn Gnóthaí Pobail, Tuaithe agus Gaeltachta an roinn rialtais atá freagrach as polasaí Gaeilge agus as na gníomhaireachtaí atá ainmnithe le bheith freagrach as forbairt na teanga agus na Gaeltachta.

Freastalaíonn seirbhís raidió Gaeilge, RTÉ Raidió na Gaeltachta, a chraolann ar bhonn náisiúnta agus atá le fáil go hidirnáisiúnta ar an idirlíon, go speisialta ar an nGaeltacht. Tá ceannáras TG4, an tseirbhís teilifíse Gaeilge, lonnaithe sa Ghaeltacht.

Oibríonn Údarás na Gaeltachta i gcomhpháirtíocht le hOllscoil na hÉireann, Gaillimh, ag a bhfuil trí ionad for-rochtana ag feidhmiú sa Ghaeltacht faoi choimirce Acadamh na hOllscolaíochta Gaeilge agus atá ag tairiscint raon leathan cúrsaí creidiúnaithe.

Support Structures Overview

Irish is the first official language of the Irish State according to the Constitution. It is a mandatory part of the education system at primary and post-primary levels. The Office of the Language Commissioner, which is based in the Gaeltacht, was established in 2003 to oversee the implementation of the provisions of the Official Languages Act.

The Department of Community, Rural and Gaeltacht Affairs is the government department with overall responsibility for Irish language policy and for the designated agencies responsible for Irish language and Gaeltacht development.

The Gaeltacht is served by a dedicated Irish language radio service, RTÉ Raidió na Gaeltachta, which broadcasts nationally and is available internationally on the worldwide web. The national dedicated Irish-language service, TG4, is based in the Gaeltacht.

The organisation also works in partnership with the National University of Ireland, Galway which has three outreach centres operating in the Gaeltacht under the aegis of a body called Acadamh na hOllscolaíochta Gaeilge and offering a wide choice of accredited courses.

Údarás na Gaeltachta

Údarás na Gaeltachta

Established in 1980, Údarás na Gaeltachta is the regional development authority funded by the Government to promote the economic, social and cultural development of the Gaeltacht with the overall objective of maintaining Irish as the main communal language of the region. It endeavours to achieve that objective by funding a wide range of strategic language, cultural, community and enterprise promotion and development initiatives.

The Authority has a 20 member board, 17 of whom are democratically elected by the Gaeltacht electorate at elections held every five years, the other three, including the chairperson, being appointed by the Government on the recommendation of the Minister. The organisation has a staff complement of 113 people and a network of regional offices throughout the Gaeltacht to implement its statutory brief.

It's economic development programme is critical in that nurturing new and existing businesses, developing modern business infrastructure, developing and enhancing the skills base and attracting inward investment form the foundation-stone for creating sustainable communities and lifestyle choices. The more remote areas and the offshore islands present a particular challenge in this regard.

An tÚdarás provides funding for these and provides the advice, assistance and financial support that help these community groups become strong and proactive structures which can deliver local services, promote local development initiatives, and in many instances manage and administer community or state assets such as enterprise centres. An tÚdarás works in close partnership with community groups to administer social employment schemes, manage youth clubs and pre-school groups and enhance the social infrastructure through activities such as the provision of assistance for the elderly and the disadvantaged.
